

Who is he / she?

Seminario Permanente CPI Tino Grandío

- Think of a person and your classmates will have to ask questions and figure out who you are thinking of.
- When making questions start asking for more general information and then go on to more specific one.
- To start with, think of an easy person to guess, then continue with less well-known people. Don't just think of people with the same job: footballers, actors...

	examples
be	Is it a man/woman? Is he/she a sportsman/woman? Is he/she very rich? Is he/she tall? Is he/she American? What nationality is he/she? How old is he/she? What's his/her team? ... have	Has he/she got long hair? Has he/she got any children? How many children has he/she got? ...
do	Does he/she play football? Does he/she appear on television? Does he/she work in Spain? Where does he/she live? ...
did	Did he win the Champions league last year? Did she marry last year? What team did he/she play for last year? ...

VARIATIONS (to make it a bit more difficult):

- The person you choose must be dead.
- The questions can only have two possible answers: yes or no.
- Set a limit for the number of questions before guessing the hidden name.
